Remembering
Wiarthon Willie

You were famous for your talent,
Predicting weather for the year,
Speaking only to the Mayor,
A special message for all to hear.

Prediction morning was your time to shine,
We gathered in your honour,
To hear if it would be an early spring,
Or six more weeks of winter.

You lived a long and healthy life,
And though today we cry,
We know you are with Mac again,
A celebration in the sky.

While your memory will live on,
You've taught Wee Willie well,
We will forever miss you,
And your legend we will tell.
